For your Christmas present I have given a donation to Donkey Welfare of Namibia so donkeys can be seen and not hurt.

Every year in Namibia many donkeys are killed in road accidents. Donkeys are particularly vulnerable because at night they find it more comfortable to lie down on the roads out in country as the tarmac cools down slower than the earth around it. Unfortunately when a car approaches they do not realise the danger and remain where they are. The driver of the vehicle is unable to see the donkey in time to take avoiding action. Donkey Welfare of Namibia help save the lives of these donkeys by attaching a reflective tag to each of their ears, to make them more visible at night.
